RURAL OUTREACH INITIATIVE
PROMOTIONAL PROGRAMME

Under the strategic guidance of the department head, three distinct teams, each composed of two members, were meticulously formed. These teams, including the department head himself, were assigned different routes to cover a range of nearby schools. The focus of these outreach efforts was directed towards rural areas surrounding Karnal city, such as Taraori, Shamgarh, Nilokheri, Nissing, Pundari, Kutail, Kaachhwa, Gharaunda, among others.

Exclusively targeting government schools in these areas, the teams endeavored to raise awareness about the computer-based degree courses offered by the college. The outreach initiative went beyond promoting the courses; it also aimed at familiarizing students with the intricacies of the centralized online admission process implemented by the Department of Higher Education for the state of Haryana.

This hands-on approach not only underscored the commitment of the department to fostering higher education but also ensured that students in rural regions were well-informed about the opportunities available to them. By addressing the nuances of the admission process, the teams played a pivotal role in equipping students with the necessary knowledge to navigate their academic journeys successfully.
